Land Management Coordinator

Vermont Land Trust, Brattleboro, VT

Want to be part of the team in one of the top land trusts in the United States? The Vermont Land Trust is looking for an AmeriCorps member who is excited to help landowners better understand land management issues and options. We will train you on the workings of land conservation projects from pre-conservation documentation to post conservation easement stewardship. You will be serving on many different types of projects and be introduced to a variety of land conservation and management partners throughout the state. If you have a passion for this kind of service or a passion to learn and share, please apply today!

This position is part of the Vermont Housing & Conservation Board AmeriCorps (VHCB AmeriCorps). The VHCB AmeriCorps program supports the innovative dual-goal approach to creating stable affordable housing opportunities for Vermont residents while preserving the natural and working landscape. VHCB AmeriCorps is a national service program that places members with non-profit housing or land and energy conservation organizations around the state.

Vermont Land Trust’s mission is to conserve land so current and future generations are deeply connected to the land and benefit from its deliberate protection and responsible stewardship. As a result of VLT’s recent strategic planning, we have built programmatic capacity to help improve the quality of land management of conserved properties. In the coming year we will build on that work by helping Vermont landowners to better understand and manage their land for climate resilience and adaptation, and carbon storage and sequestration. We will also be striving to better understand and assist with creating equity in conservation and access to land. The goal of this position is to help VLT move forward with deeper investments in land management for long-term sustainability, ecological restoration, and improving access to and use of conserved lands.

Essential Functions:

- Invasive species management including conducting invasive plant and insect surveys, developing associated management plans, and coordination of invasive plant removal on public, non-profit, tribal or VLT lands.
- Participation in Cooperative Invasive Species Management Associations (CISMA) that VLT has helped organize including:
  - Southeast Vermont CISMA
  - Batten Kill Watershed CISMA
- Monitoring of conservation easement lands in line with VLT’s current protocols:
  - Land manager/owner contact, remote sensing, site visit that often includes seeing the property’s conservation features, all structures, and agricultural or forestry activities.
  - Compile visit reports using current VLT technology.
  - Use photos and maps to augment the report, as appropriate.
- Help advance the Women Owning Woodlands Vermont (WOW-VT) collaborative project with:
  - Coordination and delivery of women landowner focused events, and educational opportunities statewide, o development of outreach materials targeted toward women landowners, such as case studies, website content, and brochures o coordination of a monthly e-newsletter and social media posts, and o support the WOW steering committee through bi-weekly meetings

- Assist VLT staff with land restoration initiatives such as deer exclosure construction and native plant surveys.
- Identify, cultivate and coordinate with prospective partner organizations for land management activities.
- Participate in water quality improvement projects, including riparian buffer plantings.
- Participate in an Independent Service Project under the guidance of VHCB AmeriCorps.
- Participate in all VHCB AmeriCorps Trainings, Service Days, Events, and Program Initiatives.
- Engage in professional and personal development activities and networking opportunities.

Secondary Functions:

- Participate in VLT staff trainings
- Support VLT conservation project and stewardship functions
- Field and remote mapping, and boundary delineation of VLT Fee Lands
