Project Presentations

Rousseau Farm, North Hero – Vermont Land Trust 2024-064-001

Holly McClintock with Al Karnatz (VLT) and Rob Rousseau presented the project to the Board.

Holly gave a brief overview of the project that includes about 79 acres of pasture, hayland, and woodland. Rob runs a small beef operation where they are pasture raised and supplements with hay during the winter months. Rob has been hoping to conserve the farm for many years and is excited it is coming to fruition.

Al Karnatz shared that it is great that Rob is buying this property.

Rob shared some of the story of his family history of the farm.

Emily W thanked Rob for agreeing to a historic notice provision.

Al shared that they will be conducting a site visit to assess for vernal pools.

Kate M thanked them for the bargain sale.

Vondell Cobb Reserve, Woodstock – Vermont Land Trust
2025-084-001

Bill Dell’Isola with Donna Foster (VLT) and Susan Ford (Chair of Woodstock Select Board) presented the project to the Board.

Bill gave a brief overview of the project which would conserve approximately 323 acres, located about three miles from the village center, as a permanently protected Town Forest under a conservation easement co-held by Vermont Housing and Conservation Board and Vermont Land Trust. The property already includes approximately 12 miles of multi-use trails maintained by the Woodstock Area Mountain Bike Association and supports walking, running, mountain biking, skiing, and educational use by nearby middle and high school students. The property helps connect Marsh-Billings-Rockefeller National Historical Park to Green Mountain National Forest and lies within an almost 3000-acre unfragmented forest block identified through Vermont Conservation Design as both a High Priority Interior Forest Block and Priority Connectivity Block. The property is located within the Southern Green Mountains biophysical region, and staff view the project as advancing Act 59 goals by expanding community access to conserved lands while supporting long-term community resilience. The project would also protect approximately 20,000 feet of tributary frontage flowing to the Ottauquechee River and connected to Woodstock’s drinking water supply. Conservation protections include naturally vegetated surface water buffers and vernal pool protection zones. The property is part of a larger 353-acre acquisition completed by the Town in May 2025 from the former Woodstock Aqueduct Company, along with the community water system infrastructure.

Donna shared that the WAC approached VLT as they wanted to conserve the land and were hoping the Town of Woodstock would purchase the land. The Town of Woodstock voted to purchase the water company and then voted to purchase the Vondell property.

Susan Ford shared that the Town really supported the purchase of the property and the Select Board conducted a series of public meetings to get town opinion on whether to conserve the land and the residents supported the conservation.

Neil M asked about the status of the funding for the project. Donna shared that they have upwards of $100K but the goal is $400K to support additional funding.

L’Esperance Retro-OPAV (Option to Purchase at Agricultural Value), Swanton – Vermont
Land Trust
1994-026-002

Holly McClintock and Tucker Malone presented the project to the Board.

Holly gave an overview of the project which includes 330 acres where 181 are tillable and rotated between hay, corn, soy, or grains, 44 acres are used for pasture, 100 are wooded and 3 acres are within a homestead complex. Cody L’Esperance purchased his home farm in Swanton taking over an existing dairy operation and then in 2024, over a decade later, Cody purchased this 330-acre conserved farm from Mark Vosburg, a mid-sized dairy farmer who has been slowly aging out, which allowed Cody to double his herd size and land base and take over Mark Vosburg's Agri-Mark contract after years of selling to DFA. Cody also has about 70,000 maple taps across his 500+ acres, about 800-1,000 of which are on this property with the hope to expand. This property was initially conserved in 1994, and our retro-OPAV will add water quality protections on a small wetland and tributary of the Hungerford Brook in addition to incorporating the OPAV.

Tucker shared that Cody is a first-generation dairy farmer and they are making a strong business out of it. They are currently developing their own creamery. They also have maple production. They purchased the cropland and herd in 2024 and this retro-opav will be helping with some of the debt from that transaction.

David M shared that he was able to visit the farm almost 20 years ago and that Cody is an amazing operator. David shared that he would abstain from voting on this project as they provide David's business with maple syrup.

Tucker shared that the retro-OPAV has been very helpful for young farmers.

Gus shared that we started using OPAV's around 2000 and so there are probably about 400 farms without an OPAV, this does provide additional protection for incoming buyers and reducing debt.

Ride Your Bike, Burlington – Champlain Housing Trust 2026-043-001

Emily Phillips with Andrew Foley (Jonathan Rose Companies), Miranda Lescaze (CHT), and Todd Sarandos (Ride Your Bike) presented the project to the Board.

Emily gave a brief overview of the project which represents the first phase of an ambitious infill redevelopment project in a formerly industrial part of Burlington's South End neighborhood. The subject will be a six-story, mixed-income, 204-unit apartment building with ground floor commercial and community space. VHC's investment will be in the 4% LIHTC project comprising one-third of the apartments (67 units) which will provide rents affordable to households between 50% to 80% AMI. Two-thirds of the 204 total units (137 units) will be market-rate rental apartments financed through private equity, a low interest LIAC loan, and other sources. A two-unit condominium and master-lease structure will legally separate the LIHTC and Market projects, which are otherwise physically integrated ("checkerboarded") throughout the building.

Emily shared a bit about the partnership with CHT and Jonathan Rose Company. This is one of the first in the State to utilize the CHIP program.

Todd S. is one of the owners of the parcel and is grateful for the partnership on this project.

Andrew shared appreciation for the Board, and shared that they are presenting to the Burlington City Commission for a vote to outline the first phase of this project. They will be applying for Burlington HTF funds later this summer. They are making good progress on their Tax Credit syndication.

Neil asked about the reference to checkerboarding. Andrew shared that the building will be a condo structure but the affordable and market rate units will be mixed throughout the building.

Neil asked about the design where access to the units are outside and that it reminded him a bit of a motel. Kate M added on and asked if they are large enough to be usable space like a porch if it might create opportunity for connection.

Andrew shared that they have looked at the social benefits and that there are studies of the effectiveness of these entrance types in cold weather climates. He shared that the exterior corridors don't count toward the interior square footage and so allows them to build more housing.

Jen H asked about what the drivers were to look at what income mix and how they made those decisions.

Andrew responded that they have been working with the Burlington zoning and the affordable housing incentives, and working with VFHA on tax credits, as well as the VHCB funding.

Maura shared that she appreciated the design decision around having the exterior porch which allowed them to build more units. Todd S shared that the porches are 11 feet deep so they are pretty generous; each unit will have light and air ventilation on both sides.

Emily W appreciated that the Jonathan Rose Companies is the developer on this project.

Neil asked if the plan is to build additional units in the future. Andrew shared that they have a second phase in the works and that they are working on planning for a phase 3.

Miranda shared that CHT is working on the phase two plan which will be 40 units.

Neil asked how many units they plan to build. Andrew shared that the maximum is around 1400 units allowed but they are working on the first two phases now. Miranda added that the second phase will be coming from CHT and will be 40 units over a childcare facility.

Andrew shared they are pursuing a geothermal plant on the site as well.

Billy C asked about the acquisition budget and asked who currently owns the property. Todd shared that Ride Your Bike owns the property and is partnering with Jonathan Rose Companies. Andrew shared some more details about the partnership. Billy asked about the acquisition cost, Andrew responded.

Kate M asked if brownfield is a factor or risk. Emily P responded that it is not a brownfield.

Maura shared that she likes the partnership between the developers, CHT, and the current owner that is bringing a good amount of private equity, balanced with public funds.

Caledonia Crossing, Peacham – Rural Edge
2024-054-001

Lee Youngman with Patrick Shattuck and Becky Masure (RE), and Liz Nickerson presented the project to the Board.

Lee pointed out a small typo in the memo that the address number was incorrect but that the resolution is correct. Lee gave a brief overview of the project which is a supplemental request as RuralEdge has worked hard to reconfigure the project, reducing the Science Building scope to moderate rehab in lieu of gut rehab at the Peacham site and adding two buildings in St. Johnsbury: 1) the 1867 Building which sustained fire damage last summer and 2) the Dean Hale building, RE's current office space. With the addition of these two buildings, this scattered site project will now have a total of 43 units (23 net new units in total) and will rebuild the section of the 1867 Building destroyed by the fire in 2025.

Patrick shared updates to the properties and that they had a damaging fire which required them to rethink the project. The new makeup of the project is really helping to bring some efficiency of scale.

Emily W asked about the commercial units on the ground floor and if those are successful. Patrick shared that the commercial units will be moved up from the basement level making them a better store front.

Kate M shared that the recent updates to the St. Johnsbury zoning has made this a regular use and not a conditional use. Kate asked about Act 250, Patrick responded that they don't trigger Act 250.

Maura shared that because the project is scattered site and if this is impacting their capacity. Patrick shared that they have Liz and Sue Cobb as consultants to help with some of these scattered site projects. They are hoping that some of their projects will be getting moving at the beginning of next year. Maura asked if they have gotten to a point of having a back-up in the system. Patrick shared they have been doing well, although with the fire they did need to slow down the pipeline a bit.

Dorset Commons Rehab, South Burlington – Champlain Housing Trust
2018-028-002

Gretchen Rittenhouse with Miranda Lescaze and Javier Garcia (CHT) presented the project to the Board.

Gretchen gave a brief overview of the project Dorset Commons, which CHT purchased in 2018 to prevent displacement of low-income households and maintain it as a significant source of naturally occurring affordable and moderate rate family housing in South Burlington. The buildings need reinvestment to address crucial capital improvements. CHT is proposing a phased project, with the Phase 1 scope targeting building exteriors, site improvements, energy-efficient modernization, and re-capitalization of the replacement reserves. Phase 2 will focus on extensive unit renovations and upgrades as units turn over. Low-cost social capital debt, pre-capitalized replacement reserves, and increased cash flow from higher rents on turnover will fund Phase 2 over the next eight to nine years.

Miranda shared that they have been working for a few years to plan reinvestment and rehabilitation. Because of its large size they had to work on an appropriate path forward for funding.

Neil asked about the issue of rent increases and affordability. Miranda responded addressing the current resident's income was taken into consideration in the make up of income limits on units. Neil asked about the rehab upon turnovers. Miranda responded that project management team would be managing the rehab, but they would work with contractors.

Jen asked about the market and interest in the property. Miranda shared that there has been steady interest.

Gus shared that at an event in South Burlington recently he heard that the property is really important to the community and provides great workforce housing.

Neil shared that this is a wonderful project and location in its proximity to the new city center.

Billy asked if when they originally purchased the property in 2018, they anticipated the level of reinvestment to pay off the debt. Miranda shared that they were anticipating this and expect to be able to pay off the debt and lower the interest rate.

Emily W asked if they think they will be able to get the market rate units occupied for those rents. Miranda shared that they don't see them being an issue and they would also be open to tenant-based voucher holders in some of their units.

Maura asked why they needed to hold units aside for tax credit tenants. Miranda responded that they had to lower rents to make them affordable to tax credit income tenants.

Hillside Manor Mobile Home Park, Starksboro – Addison Housing Works 1991-072-002

Lee Youngman with Elise Shanbacker (AHW) presented the project to the Board.

Lee gave a brief overview of the project which will be improving infrastructure at the mobile home community. This project has a current VHCB covenant on 20 lots, and this project will bring the number of lots under VHCB covenant to 29 lots. AHW was able to work with other state funding to maintain ownership of the property.

Elise shared that Hillside is one of three MHPs that AHW owns in Starksboro. The park was acquired in the early 1990's and there was one infrastructure project in 1999 but they are ready to replace all of the water and wastewater systems. There will be a new community septic system. There will also be stormwater infrastructure. AHW owns the land and residents own their homes and pay lot rent. There have been some long-term vacant lots and they have confirmed that some lots that appeared to be mapped in floodplain have been confirmed to not be in a floodplain. They have been able to add several zero energy ready homes.

Gus shared that Elise has worked really hard on this and their other mobile home communities and thanked her for managing all of the challenges and maintaining the housing for communities.

David M shared this is a beautiful area giving residents access to nature.

Heaton Street Apartments, Montpelier – Downstreet Housing & Community Development 2024-057-001

Kate Buonanno with Nicola Anderson and Angie Harbin (DHCD) presented the project to the Board.

Kate gave an overview of the project which was originally brought to the Board in 2024 and due to funding changes Downstreet had to rethink the make-up of the project. The project will create 20 new units of affordable housing. The project will be utilizing historic tax credits, and part of the project will be preserving historic elements in the building.

Nicola shared that they had to adjust the priority for the property with the change of funding. The project is designed to serve lower income residents. Downstreet has been hosting neighborhood meetings to share updates. They are anticipating closing on the property at the end of the year or early 2027 and hoping to start construction shortly after that.

Emily W asked if there is an update on the zoning appeal. Nicola shared that they had an appeal on the neighboring homeownership project and they are past that appeal period. They are feeling confident about this project. They have completed a traffic study and have been hosting neighborhood meetings. Montpelier is having discussion about changing zoning and they have had some public meetings about that, if that passes this summer it would remove the need for a conditional use.

Neil followed up about the windows that were higher on the wall. Nicola shared that the building will be sprinkled and the windows are 4.5-5'.

Riggs Meadow Homeownership, Hinesburg – Champlain Housing Trust 2026-079-000

Ariane Kissam with Julie Curtain (CHT) and Jonathon Goldhammer (GMH) presented the project to the Board.

Ariane gave a brief overview of the project in which CHT proposes to develop, with Green Mountain Habitat for Humanity (GMH), eight affordable new homeownership units on a site in Hinesburg as part of the larger Windy Ridge development which involves a 45.6-acre site that was donated to CHT. The master plan for the whole parcel includes 76 housing units serving a variety of incomes and a commercial space to expand a local childcare program. These eight homes are located adjacent to the 36-unit rental phase which VHC Board previously awarded funds to and is expected to begin construction this summer. The project will create eight homes in two buildings, and each will be a two-story townhouse unit with a slab on grade. Four of the homes will have three bedrooms and four will have two bedrooms. Each will have a bathroom and a half. The homes will have all-electric mechanical systems. This feature enables VHCB to award some of our Congressionally Directed Spending (CDS) funds for homeownership to the project.

Julie shared that CHT is the master developer of the project at Windy Ridge. It will be adjacent to the tax credit rental units. The project is located within walking distance to downtown Hinesburg and CVU high school. There is an opportunity to take advantage of the first community geothermal system in Vermont. There will be two buildings with four town homes each. The VHCB funds will allow CHT to be affordable at 60% AMI, the maximum income eligible to purchase the homes is 80% AMI, as they are Habitat homes the goal is to sell and price them at 50% AMI. Julie shared that these will be permanently affordable and shared an example of how the permanent shared equity program works.

Jonathon shared that they have about 250 people in their GMH queue that are looking for homeownership opportunities. There are 30 folks in Hinesburg looking for homeownership opportunities and GMH has been working with CHT to increase their pipeline.

Maura shared that she is also interested to see how the panelized construction works and how that is going to affect the difference in construction time, funds, etc and wondered how the Board can hear about that. Jonathon shared that he is happy to come back to report to the Board about how that process works.

Maura asked about the geothermal shared ownership will work. Jonathon shared that each unit will have their own geothermal well.

Maura asked about the selection criteria around bedroom size and household size in affordable homeownership. Julie shared that they work with households and they receive extra points in the CHT homeownership process for eligibility if they match bedroom size.

Maura asked if that is how it works across the state and if staff reviews selection plans. Ariane responded that we have those plans on file but are not reviewed for each transaction.

Maura asked about the deep subsidies with Habitat homes and how income limitations work on resale. Julie shared that at resale they tend increase the AMI up to 120% to increase the buyer pool. Maura asked what might happen if they set the resale at 80% AMI. Julie responded that it would be hard to know until they go to sell, if interest rates have gone up it could impact the ability for that homeowner to sell the property.

Jonathan shared some of the factors that happen when resales happen and if homes need some renovations which can increase the cost of the home. Julie shared the selection policy does favor the lowest income in the pool of buyers.

Kate M shared the 802 Homes design program. Jonathan responded that they would like to work with 802 Homes and one challenge is the square footage of habitat restrictions.

Billy asked if CHT had data around resale incomes. Julie responded that typically they are selling to households around 70% AMI.

David shared that the Northern Forest Center has been providing incentives panelized construction with a company in Maine to provide materials.

Billy asked if in the future there would be any value of giving the Board the opportunity to weigh in if a buyer comes in at over 100% AMI if that would be feasible. Elizabeth Egan shared that would be quite difficult to accomplish.

Jonathan shared that 60-80% is where most of their applicant pool is. He discussed that they are seeing less folks ready to purchase a home in the 50-60% AMI range.

Gus shared that it might be time to do a review of our shared equity policies.

Maura shared that if we are subsidizing to 60% AMI but if there is someone purchasing the house that is at 120% AMI, could excess subsidy be recaptured and used for another home.

Kate M shared that looking at the policy sounds like a great idea.

Gus shared that in most of the State 120% of median is 100% in Chittenden county, but the cost of building a home is the same so it has created equity around the state.

Lunch from 12:10 – 12:57

We did a round of introductions of the Board and staff.

Director’s Report & Legislative Update

Gus welcomed Nina Gage and Marty Washo and thanked Emily Phillips for her work supporting the housing team as acting director.

Gus shared that Marsh House is about the fifth project in Waterbury. Waterbury has been hit hard by flooding, and the organization Revitalizing Waterbury has been doing a lot of work to help the community. Gus talked about the Waterbury Seminary. Gus shared that he and Maura were able to visit some new condos that utilized CTE funding.

Emily W shared that the Nominating and Governance Committee has sent out a Board Self-Assessment that is due May 22.

David M shared that just a bit past the GMC and along route 100 is a very critical habitat corridor.

Maura asked if there was going to be an effort so the Board can understand the importance of natural areas. David M responded that the area he was bringing up is the mapped area of importance for habitat migration.

Trey responded that ANR has been working to map the state and produce the Vermont conservation design resources which identify and prioritize important areas. Billy shared that Vermont Conservation design considers about 65% of the State and ANR has been working on how to classify other land.

Maura asked about need, impact, quality scores and wondered if there is an opportunity to make those criteria more clear or to have a rubric for the scoring. Emily W also asked about the scoring on one of the housing projects and how the decisions are made. Gus shared some factors. Emily P shared that as they were underwriting staff uses a more detailed rubrics to arrive at the final scores.

Finance Report

Christopher provided updates on the process of getting set with the new audit firm. Christopher gave an overview of the operations budget. We do have some savings right now in the operations budget, but in the last three months of the year we are going to have some expenses in consulting, conference registration and travel, and LAOB is moving to a new office space which will impact the occupancy line.

Policy Issues

Kate M asked if the Board could get an update on the career and technical education collaboration. Gus said we could bring a report to the Board in June.

Liz shared there are eight active projects right now and onboarding two more. It sounds like they are hitting a stride with it.

Emily W mentioned the closing of college campuses, and wondering what is the opportunity for housing on those campuses. Gus shared that we have done a few projects already and there is more to be done and more to learn. Kate M shared that when the use of education goes away what is the opportunity to stay connected to the place. Pollaidh shared that we worked with PTV to submit a CDS application to work on spaces.

Billy shared that as he re-took the conflict of interest training a reminder that if someone needs to recuse themselves they should not be commenting on a project. Elizabeth E shared the definition of recusal and abstention and the difference. There was some more discussion around conflict of interest.

Maura shared it would be great to go through a public process at some point to get feedback around project scoring. Maura also raised a question about the timing of awards, she shared that when examining the timeline of how long projects are taking to reach construction closing. Some projects are starting much later than planned, so wondering if VHCB is looking at that.

Emily W shared it is her perception that we are seeing projects more and more that don't have final budgets, and that projects are coming back because they need increased funding. Gus shared we have often been the first dollars in, it is something that we could revisit. There was more discussion about when VHCB commits funds. Maura asked if VHCB has looked at what might happen if we were not the first funders on a project.

David shared that it would be good to set aside time either at a future Board meeting or the Board retreat.

Any conveyance of the property shall require the prior written consent of VHCB, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld if the proposed transferee is an eligible applicant to receive funds from VHCB.

Notwithstanding the aforementioned affordability restrictions, Developer shall make every reasonable effort to designate three (3) units for those who are homeless or at risk of homelessness, and who are referred through the local system of coordinated entry.

HOME. Six (6) units on the property shall be designated as HOME units, and the following restrictions shall apply during the HOME Program affordability period of twenty (20) years.
